The deposit receipt required as evidence of a shareholding in connection with the exercise of the shareholder rights as defined in Section 109 AktG (additional items to the agenda) and Section 110 AktG (proposals for resolution made by shareholders) must not date back more than seven days when presented to the company.

The deposit receipt for the required evidence of the shareholding in connection with the exercise of the shareholder right as defined in Section 109 AktG (amendment to the agenda) must confirm that the persons filing the motion have been shareholders for an uninterrupted period of at least three months prior to the date of the motion.

In the case of several shareholders who only reach the threshold together the receipts must refer to the same date.

Capital Share Certificates

Holders of capital share certificates (ISIN AT0000609664) are not entitled to request that the agenda be amended as defined in Section 109 AktG or to submit proposals for resolution as defined in Section 110 AktG and request that they be published on the company's website.

Information on the right to ask for information as defined in Section 118 AktG

At the extra-ordinary shareholders' meeting every shareholder shall, upon request, be informed about company matters to the extent such information is required for proper assessment of an item on the agenda. The duty to provide information also includes the legal and business relationships of the company to an affiliate. If consolidated financial statements and the group management report are presented at the shareholders' meeting of a parent company (Section 244 of the Austrian Commercial Code [Unternehmensgesetzbuch/UGB]) the duty to provide information also includes the position of the group and the entities included in the consolidated financial statements.

Such information must be given in compliance with the principles of conscientious and accurate rendering of account. The information must be provided at the extra-ordinary shareholders' meeting.

The company may refuse to provide such information if

1. according to the reasonable judgement of an entrepreneur, disclosure of such information might cause a material disadvantage to the company or an affiliate or
2. disclosure of the same would be punishable.

Every shareholder attending the extra-ordinary shareholders' meeting is entitled to receive such information. Not only the shareholder him/herself but also his/her legal or authorised representative is entitled to receive information.

For reasons of procedural economy please submit any questions the answering of which will require an extended period of preparation in text format to the Board of Management timely before the extra-ordinary shareholders' meeting. Questions may be sent to the company by post to PORR AG, Department: Konzernmanagement, Absberggasse 47, 1100 Vienna, or by fax to 050 626 99 99 72 from Austria or +43 50626 99 99 72 from abroad.

Information on the shareholders' right to file motions at the extra-ordinary shareholders' meeting as defined in Section 119 AktG

Every shareholder, irrespective of the number of shares s/he holds, is entitled to file a motion at the extra-ordinary shareholders' meeting with respect to any item on the agenda. For that purpose proof of the right to attend the meeting, i.e. an invitation to the extra-ordinary shareholders' meeting, is required. Not only the shareholder him/herself but also his/her legal or authorised representative attending the extra-ordinary shareholders' meeting has the right to file motions.

If several motions have been filed regarding a specific item on the agenda, the motions published in accordance with Section 108 (1) AktG or Section 110 (1) AktG shall be voted on first. Apart from that, the chairman shall determine the order in which votes are to be cast.
